

University of California at Riverside

Licensing, Copyright and Scholarly Communications Librarian

Review of applications will begin April 1, 2008 and will continue until the positions are filled.

Reporting to the Assistant University Librarian for Collections and Scholarly Communications, the Licensing, Copyright and Scholarly Communications Librarian negotiates and licenses electronic resources; works closely with various library units to oversee implementation and tracking of electronic resources; serves as the libraries' advisor for copyright and intellectual property issues; and provides leadership in UCR's contribution to the University of California's e-Scholarship initiatives and acts as liaison to copyright and licensing experts in the California Digital Library (CDL) and other UC Libraries. Salary Range: $56,496-$88,488. Salary commensurate with qualifications and experience

Application Information: Review of applications will begin April 1, 2008 and will continue until the positions are filled. Applications should include a letter discussing interest and relevant experience, a current resume, and contact information for at least three professional references. Submit materials to: David Rios, Director of Library Personnel, University of California, University Libraries, P.O. Box 5900, Riverside, CA 92517, or fax to (951) 827-2255 or e-mail to david.rios@ucr.edu.

For the complete job announcements visit:
<http://library.ucr.edu/employment/listing.php>

The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.